

Background to ELLiE school principals' interviews and teachers' interviews

Interviews were conducted with all school principals each year with some slight adjustments to the questions to reflect the development of the study. The sample included here relates to the final year, including some questions related to the transfer of children to the next school phase.

Similarly, interviews were conducted with all teachers involved in teaching the ELLiE classes during the three years of the main study. Some minor variations in the questions occurred each year. The sample shown here includes a final section on the use of digital media, offering opportunities for correlation with data collected from parents and children.
